

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Mr. George M. Adams and Miss America, daughter of J. D. Noaks, will be united in marriage at his residence today.

—L. P. Coffman, a widower of 38, and Miss Alice McConan, 24, will be married on the 14th at Mr. Henry Russell's near Milledgeville.

—George J. Gould denies that there was any marriage settlement of $2,000,000 or of any other sum, and says that the question of money did not enter into the marriage of his sister at all. Bosh.

—The engagement of Miss Julia Stevenson, daughter of the Vice-President, and Mr. Martin Hardin is announced. Mr. Hardin is a son of Hon. P. Watt Hardin, and a professor in Hogsett Academy, in Danville.

—A Harrodsburg marriage has been very appropriately celebrated after prayer meeting. If there is any time in life when a man should ask for Divine assistance, it is on the eve of just such a desperate undertaking.—Louisville Times.

—A woman's rights bride in Michigan was, according to the wedding notice, a member of eight secret societies and several clubs and missionary organizations. She can't stay at home many nights in the week, if she keeps up her membership.

—James Payty, aged 75, and Mrs. Hester West, 70, were married near Hopkinsville. James Stamps, the groom's best man, is a widower for the second time, his first wife being a daughter of Mr. Payty and his second wife, the daughter of Mrs. West.

—Miss Etta Yeager, sister of Mr. T. C. Yeager, will be married at Monticello, Mo., on the 20th, to Mr. George Marchard, a bank official. Miss Yeager, who is well-known here, was on a visit to her aunt, when Cupid shot his love dart through her heart.

—The Magnolia is the latest addition to Kentucky journalism. It is published at Uniontown. It is not a newspaper, but was started for the purpose of promoting matrimony. Put an ad. for a husband or wife in its columns and the proprietors guarantee you will get what you want.

—Occasionally love enters in the matrimonial alliances of American women and titled foreigners. At New York, Friday, Count Jean Edward d'Hulby, of Rome, and Francesca Monti, the Boston beauty, were married. He has plenty of money. "My face is my fortune, sir," she said. Her worldly possessions are very limited.

They have "onion sociale" in Potadam, N. Y. One of a number of young ladies standing in a row bites a young onion, and the young man who guesses which is the bitter is allowed to kiss all the other girls. Those who fell kiss the onion eater. The enterprising market gardeners of Potadam are arranging to raise onions all the year round.

—Mrs. John C. Haynes drowned her self near Spottsville. Mrs. Haynes had long been ill. Becoming crazed from suffering, she left her bed during the night and barefooted made her way about 300 yards to a pond in which was about six feet of water, and throwing herself therein, was drowned.

—The Federal Judges in their recent conference at Cincinnati are said to have joined in a letter to Marshal Blackburn, sharply criticizing him for certain methods in conducting the business of his office, and instructing him to make the changes necessary for the proper transaction of the business of the courts.

—The chiefest beauty of the secret ballot is the opportunity it gives every man to vote his honest sentiments and lie about it afterwards, without the remotest possibility of being caught.—Glasgow Times.

—John Heitz, who escaped from the penitentiary at Frankfort five years ago, was arrested at Pittsburg, Pa. He was working on a newspaper and his signature on cartoons led to his arrest.

—The trial of Marshal Feeny for shooting Thomas Graves while resisting arrest at Richmond has been continued till Monday next, to await the result of Graves' wounds.

—The hoist house of a gold mine at White Oaks, N. M., was burned early Sunday morning. Eight men are imprisoned below and have probably been suffocated.

—In a fight near Alexander, Allen county, over the possession of a horse, Yankee Robinson cut Daniel Blake to death.

—Thomas Malone, of Carrollton, was found dead in his corn crib, the corn having caved in on him and suffocated him.

—Nelson Richards, aged 19, is in jail at Logansport, Ind., for attempting to kill his father and burning his house.

A woman's life can be divided thus: The age when she dances but does not dare to waltz, it is spring; the age when she dances and dares to waltz, it is summer; the age when she dances but prefers to waltz, it is autumn; finally, when she dances no longer, it is winter, that rigorous winter of life.—Mme. de Girardin.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

—A man named Hollars assassinated Samuel Shadoan in Pulaski county and escaped.

—The African Methodist church at Middlesboro was blown down during the storm Friday evening.

—Judge Matt Walton has been elected President of the Board of Commissioners of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum at Lexington.

—Vice-President Stevenson delighted the law class at Centre College by delivering a lecture on parliamentary procedure.

—Cheaney Wilson, aged 15, is held at Pineville for the murder of his 17-year-old step brother. He put poison in some sugar and gave it to the boy.

—The Marquis of Queensberry has been put under £500 bond to answer the charge of criminal libel preferred by Oscar Wilde, as if anybody could libel Oscar.

—Judge James Tevis, a prominent business man of Richmond and for 10 years clerk of Madison county, dropped dead in the office of the Richmond Hotel of apoplexy.

—News comes by way of Lawrenceburg that all of Rev. George O. Barnes' big tomato crop on Sanibel Island, on which he was banking so heavily when here, was killed by the freeze.

—John Johnson, under peace bond; Chas. Fair, shooting with intent to kill; Henry James, firing into a train, escaped from jail at Middlesboro Friday night, by burning through the side of the jail. They fled to the mountains.

—Mr. J. E. Bruce has information of the death of his uncle, Thomas Graves, at Monticello, Mo. He was a native of this county and married two aunts of Mr. Bruce. The last one, 83 years of age survives him, and is the mother of Mr. Hayden J. McRoberts. Mr. Graves was 85 years of age.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—We are sorry to say that Mrs. Clara Singleton is again on the sick list.

—Mr. Alex Lusk delivered two temperance lectures in our town last week.

—Rev. R. M. Campbell will fill the pulpit at the Christian church next Sunday.

—Miss Bessie Magee has returned home after several weeks stay at Livingston.

—We are glad to see Mr. Tommie and Miss Bessie Carson out, after several weeks' illness.

—Miss Nannie Harris, of Lancaster, spent Sunday with the family of Mr. J. H. Stephens. Miss Hattie Jones, of Garrard county, after a pleasant visit to her cousin, Miss Lottie Dillon, has returned home. Messrs. Will and Joe Brooks were the pleasant guests of their mother, the past week. Mrs. Mattie B. Stapp was called to Louisville by the illness of her father, Prof. Broadhurst, who is at the point of death. Dr. Walter Beasley is spending several weeks with his parents at this place.

WHISKY DID IT.—Life is, after all, but a series of living pictures, and, like the track across the desert, it is strewn with the whitening skeletons of those who have fallen by the way. And yet, with all this, if there are any of us who profit by these examples, they are as few as presidential appointments in Kentucky.

Here is a man in Louisville, the grandson of a president, a graduate of Annapolis, a man who has received the highest honors for heroic conduct, who has moved in the most exclusive society, magnificently educated, accustomed to all that money, influence and high birth could bestow, and yet he is to-day an applicant for the position of policeman in one of the public parks of Louisville. That which floored Noah floored him, and the public steps backward and casts the veil of pity over him even as the sons of the erring patriarch covered the faults of their father.—Times.

When the day is set in a frame of gold, And color runs riot with musical sounds, When the joys of the heart are easily told, And happiness seemingly knows no bounds, I want a friend.

But when the twilight hour is framed in gray, When shadows come creeping along life's wall; When the heart grows weary of stifling its pain, And sadness wraps me about with its pall, I need a friend.

The Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL has passed the 23d milestone in its period of existence, and is today as it has been during the past 20 years under the able management of the Waltons, one of the brightest and best papers in the State.—Midway Clipper.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale.

Dr. King's New Discovery, for consumption, Coughs and Colds, each bottle guaranteed to cure, the great remedy for Liver Stomach and Kidneys. Bucklin's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—M. F. Elkin bought of J. H. Greer a fat cow at 2½c.

—Wanted to rent grass land. J. E. Bruce, Stanford.

—Yeager & Cooper bought of John Cook a barn—mare for $55.

—M. S. Baughman sold to John B. Foster a Shetland pony for $52.50.

—J. C. Hays sold here yesterday 7 steers averaging 800 pounds at 3 12½.

—George J. Gould will have a pair of stable, but has made no purchases yet.

—John A. Wilcher, of Casey, sold to West End parties 16 fat cattle at 2½ o 3c.

—Pixley, 2:08½, has been bought by Hamilton Diston, of Philadelphia, for $3,000.

—Pony Bazley, of Garrard, had three fine cattle killed by lightning Friday afternoon.

—John Johnson, of Boyle, bought in the West End a bunch of butcher cattle at 2½ to 3c.

—A fine stallion by Gambetta Wilkes dam Pan See, with trial in 2:15, to farm out. Apply at this office.

—For SALE.—Fifty shocks of good fodder (with straw) to be fed on the premises. F. M. Flennor, McKinney, Ky.

—Mr. Hillenmeyer, the fruit raiser of Lexington, says strawberries ought to be planted in the spring and never in the fall.

—W. Hambrick, of Georgetown, who was here yesterday says he sold to J. A. & N. W. Hambrick on Saturday 53 feeders at $47.50.

—The nice days of last week brought out the farmers with their plows and the land in condition for it broke up like an ash bank, after the long freeze.

—Sales of a lot of 1,100 to 1,200 pound feeding cattle at 2½, 60 hogs at 3½ to 3½ and 90,000 pounds of hemp at $5 are reported in the Harrodsburg Democrat.

—In Moscow at present they think nothing of asking from $450 to $500 for a good, light-harness horse of fair gait, while for fast trotters prices are fantastic.

—Dogs got into I. Shelby Tevis' sheep the other night and killed six and wounded one. Mr. Tevis then begun war on the dogs and killed five and wounded one.

—Henry of Navarre, Byron McClelland's great thoroughbred, has been scratched in the Ullman Handicap. He will be retired to the stud after this season.

—It would seem that our hens ought to lay all the eggs we need, but they don't. For the 11 months ending with November 1894 there were 1,440,124 dozen imported into the United States.

—"Out of 1,500 cattle on my place," writes a ranchman of Manville, Wyo., "40 steers from one to two years old have been pulled down by wolves, and the rest run so hard that they are in poor shape to stand the weather."

—The horse season is nearly upon us again and the prospect is that it will be much more lively than last year. An ad. in this paper and some cards or bills will help you materially. Remember that we are prepared to serve you better than ever.

—The year 1894 developed 332 new 2:20 trotters, of which 107 were new standard performers, and 225 had previously entered the 2:30 list. Of former 2:20 trotters 145 lowered their records, making in all 477 new records in the 2:20 trotting list.

—W. I. Caldwell & Son can discount anyone so far heard of on the lamb question. They saved 84 lambs from 53 ewes. There were three sets of triplets and all alive. These gentlemen just had a shed for the sheep to go in and out as they pleased.—Advocate.

—A good crowd attended court yesterday, but business was very dull. Of the 50 odd cattle on the market about half were sold. Butcher stuff was dull at 2 to 2½c; there was a demand for feeders and a few changed hands at 3.10 to 3½c. Mules brought $30 to $48 and plug horses were not wanted at any price. A bunch of ewes was withdrawn at $1.70.

—A. Logan Denny, of Danville, has placed his fancy saddle mare, Frances P. in the hands of Nelson H. Rowland, of Lexington, who will work her until the fair season opens. Mr. Rowland is considered by many horsemen to be the best saddle horse trainer in the State, and with this splendid material to work on, he should make Frances P. a dangerous competitor in any ring. Mr. Denny has several times refused $500 for this mare.

—An infant son of Mrs. Susan Thompson, of Russellville, was burned to death by sparks of fire falling in its crib.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions. It positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The first Bible printed in the point alphabet for the blind has just been issued in Louisville. It contains 1,839 pages.

—Rev. J. H. Jenkins, the oldest Baptist minister in Hardin county, died Friday of pneumonia. He had been preaching since 1841.

—Rev. W. E. Ellis and Mr. Will Severance conducted services at the colored Christian church Sunday afternoon and had a large and attentive audience.

—There are 720 Christian churches in Kentucky and the Winchester church has the distinction of the only one to support a foreign missionary at its own expense.

—Prof. Robert Graham has resigned the presidency of the Bible College at Lexington to take effect in June and Elder J. W. McGarvey has been chosen to fill the position.

—Rev. W. J. Holtzclaw at last tumbled to the fact that the Owensboro congregation did not want him any longer, so he tendered his resignation, which was at once accepted.

—Rev. William Marshall Linney, aged 75, for many years a leading minister in the Southern Methodist church, is dead Richmond, Va. He was a resident of at Danville for a long time, where he has brother and sister.

—A great revival is going on at the head of Bear creek in Lee county. One hundred and thirty-seven persons have been added to the church. The Jackson Hustler says: "The work preparatory to this revival has been going on ever since the great New Spring meeting in Lee county in August, 1893."

—Rev. J. A. McGarvey, of the Christian church, preached a sermon last Sunday night in the Presbyterian church on the subject of Sanctification, and took a stand decidedly against the new doctrine as preached by the modern Holiness preachers as being dangerous and demoralizing. His sermon was a masterful effort and has been very favorably commented upon.—Pineville Messenger.

—At Dayton, O., Sunday, Rev. S. W. Hoover was preaching from the text: "Whoever a man sows that shall he reap," and at the conclusion of declaration, "One by one they are passing over," placed his hand over his heart and stated that he felt very ill. His wife and a number of persons nearest the pulpit sprang to his rescue and assisted him to a lounge. He died a few moments later of heart failure.

—Rev. Joseph B. Cottrell, one of the most widely known preachers in the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, was drowned Wednesday in Lake Dora, at Tavares, Fla. He was seized with an epileptic attack while fishing and fell into the water. He has long suffered from such attacks and his condition has been the subject of much solicitude. He was a man of great force of character and though he was regarded as slightly unorthodox, he was held in high esteem by church and people.

—Rev. G. W. Perryman, who married Miss Sallie Waters, a daughter of Mr. George R. Waters, has just celebrated the sixth anniversary of his pastorate at Newport. The church has been greatly blessed under his ministry and although he has had the assistance of no evangelist, he has received 400 into the church. During the time he has preached 1,020 sermons, married 127 couples and preached the funeral sermons of 200 of his flock. He has been greatly assisted in his work by his wife, of whom the Covington Commonwealth says: Mrs. Perryman is a woman of rare gifts, and with her sympathy in the work and her devotion to every organization of the church, much of the great work done may be attributed to her splendid talents.

—Clara Louie Kellogg, whose sweet voice once charmed two continents, is living in New York in comparative poverty. Once she was worth nearly $1,000,000, but it has all been swept away by unfortunate business ventures.

—Twenty-one hundred tons of foreign sugar have just been destroyed in Boston harbor. Now let a cargo of condensed milk meet the same fate and there will be tea already made for the millions.—Louisville Times.

The Frankfort Capital thus salutes the conquering hero of the republican party: We are heart and soul for you for the republican nomination, Brer Bradley. We are loaded for you, Brer Bradley; so every well-informed democrat in the State, Brer Bradley. You are going to catch plain, unvarnished hides, Brer Bradley. Your plurality will be 50,000, nit, Brer Bradley.

Mrs. Tupenny—I've discharged the new cook.

Mr. Tupenny—What in the thunder did you do that for? She's the best cook we ever had.

Mrs. Tupenny—Yes, I know dear, but the stupid thing didn't know a scandal about a single family in town.

—The proposed Bradley club at Lexington has fallen through for lack of membership.

W. P. WALTON.

We very much fear that Col. Woodford Dunlap's determination not to stand for secretary of State because Col. Bradley's men ran in a snap convention on him, will endanger the success of the republican ticket, if it does not entirely send it to the demitition bowwows. It was very mean in Col. Bradley not to have consulted the wishes of this embryo statesman, and he may yet rue the inadvertence. Col. Woodford G. Dunlap is a power in politics and if Col. Bradley shall fail to placate him and get the benefit of his name on the State ticket, we are sure he will never succeed in rolling up that 50,000 majority. Col. Bradley, you are a goner unless you can induce the wanderer to return by pouring your soul into his ear and singing: Woody, dear Woody, come back to us now.

And help us out of this hole, The ticket is "nit" without your dear name, Pray don't leave us out in the cold.

An extraordinary case has just been tried at Minneapolis, which resulted in a verdict of death against the defendant, who was not charged with the murder. To obtain the insurance money, Harry Hayward had Miss Catherine Gung murdered, the man who did it claiming that by threats, a singular influence and a strange power he was hypnotized into doing it. For cold bloodedness, deliberation, nerve and premeditation, the testimony presented a plot more fiendish and devilish than even the most imaginative novelist could concoct. The trial lasted more than a month and created intense interest all over the country those that believe in the power of hypnosis, being especially interested.

The bill to prevent ladies wearing high hats in theatres having failed of passage in the Missouri Legislature, a statesman who wants to send his name ringing down the corridors of time has presented a bill to provide for a graduated tax on bachelors of $10 for those who are not married at 30 years to $75 at 55 years. As the money is not to go to the old maids and as there are many who could not marry if they would, the bill if enacted will prove such a hardship that the old fellows will be bound to raise an insurrection. Besides it will be class legislation, in comparison with which the income tax law is the climax of constitutionality.

The Hon. W. O. Bradley has announced that he will carry the State by 50,000 majority for governor. This sounds very much like he is talking through his hat, but when we remember that he told us before the election his party would elect 6 and possibly more Congressmen in this State, we are forced to put a little more confidence in his predictions than formerly. The democrats have no child's play on their hands. Col. Bradley is in earnest and he will give us all the trouble we need, though we have no idea he will be elected.

Gov. MATTHEWS goes right along vetoing all the vicious legislation that is being enacted in Indiana, and assigning excellent reasons for his action, but as the Legislature is overwhelmingly republican, but little attention is paid to him, and the bills are easily passed over his veto. Judging from the daily newspaper reports there never was a greater aggregation of knaves, fools and rascals than the body that is now making laws for the Hoosier State.

Judge THOMPSON, at Louisville, decides that the Sunday law is constitutional and holds saloon-keepers guilty of violating it, but they will appeal and in the meantime run wide open on the Lord's day. There is no necessity for a saloon at any time, especially on Sunday, but there is for many other occupations, and the judge dismissed the warrants against the telegraph and telephone companies, all newspapers, hackmen, newsboys, barbers, restaurant keepers, livery stables and milkmen.

The effort to get Congressman Berry to shy his castor into the gubernatorial arena, seems to have died a burning. The colonel is a pretty large man, but he would be drawn mighty thin in spots, if he were to try to spread over the whole State. He made the effort once and signally failed. A district is fully up to his measure.

When a man makes a failure at law and everything else he tries, he renounces the world and tries the ministry. Rhey Boyd, of Paducah, who has been a pretty touch one in his day, is the latest verification of the fact. It is to be hoped that he has not answered to another man's call to preach.

The Pineville Messenger says that the Interior Journal loves David Grant Colson now that he is elected. We always did like him. It was not that we loved him less but Col. Adams more that we wanted to see the old soldier endorsed.

The new postmaster at Cynthiana is an up-to-date woman. Her picture in the Courier-Journal looks as much like a man as it does a woman.

COL. ION B. NALL, editor of the Farmer's Home Journal, president of the Kentucky Press Association, candidate for commissioner of agriculture and said by the New York Sun to be the handsomest man in the United States, was here yesterday prosecuting his canvass and making many friends. He tells us that he is receiving great encouragement on every hand and that he is very much persuaded that he will be the next nominee for the office he seeks.

As will be seen by the official action of the democratic committee a candidate for the Legislature is to be nominated at a county convention to be held here on 13th of May, to which delegates are to be named at district conventions held at 3 p. m. Saturday May 11. No person has yet made formal announcement of his candidacy, but at least four men are anxious for the lightning to strike them.

We are indebted to the Carlisle Mercury and several other papers for highly complimentary notices of the Interior Journal's birth-day, which modestly prevents us from reproducing. We are thankful all the same for such good words, even if we are not deserving of them.

The 53d Congress was not quite so reckless with the public funds as Reed's billion dollar Congress, but it didn't miss it far. Estimates show that during the two years of its existence it appropriated $990,338,691.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

District Conventions May 11th and County Convention May 13th to Nominate a Candidate.

At a meeting of the democratic committee held at the court-house in Stanford Monday, March 11th, 1895, a quorum being present, M. F. North was selected as secretary pro tem.

The following resolution was adopted, to-wit: Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent Lincoln county in the next Legislature of Kentucky, district conventions be held at the various districts in Lincoln on the 11th day of May, 1895, at the hour of 3 p. m., to select delegates to a county convention to be held at the court-house in Stanford on the 13th day of May, 1895, at 1 p. m. That the district conventions be held at the following places and are entitled to the number of votes as herein indicated:

Each of the Stanford voting places three each; Crab Orchard, No. 1, 3; No. 2 3; Waynesburg, No. 1, 2; No. 2, 1; No. 3, 1; Hustonville, No. 1, 3; No. 2, 2; No. 3, 3. Total 29.

The committee then adjourned. L. L. DAWSON, Chm'n. M. F. NORTH, Sec'y.

—The Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Company's passenger steamer Andes, burned to the water's edge Sunday night. Loss $10,000.

—It would seem that there were enough dead ducks about Washington to have made it unnecessary for the president to leave the capital.

—The weekly reviews of trade by Dun and Bradstreet agree that the general business situation shows more improvement than for some time past.

—If all accounts be true, the Tennessee State prison has been turned into a lying-in hospital, a dozen infants having been born there during the last two years.

—The Ohio Military Commission sustains Col. Coit on the position he took in firing upon the Washington Court-house mob, and the report has been approved by Gov. McKinley.

—The extravagance of a republican Legislature is about to bankrupt the State of New York. Its appropriations up to March 1 exceed $30,000,000, and the work goes bravely on.

—James T. Brier, an assistant door-keeper in the Indiana House, has gone crazy in consequence of his excitement over the partisan struggle in the Legislature for the control of patronage.

—The steamer Longfellow, struck a pier of the C. and O. bridge in leaving Cincinnati, filled rapidly and sunk. Two passengers, the clerk and barkeeper were drowned. The boat had 500 tons of freight.

—A fire which started six weeks ago in one of the collieries of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company is still burning, and aside from the loss by fire, the checking of the flames and refitting of the mines may cost $1,000,000.

—At Irvine, Barnett Plowman was incarcerated in the county jail charged with the betrayal of Martha McKinney. When the case was called for trial he satisfied the demands of the law and of Martha by marrying her then and there.

—The argument in the bank cases to settle whether the banks shall pay 75 cents per $100 on their property, instead of being taxed as other property, has been concluded and the court of appeals will soon render a decision. Should it be against the banks it will put $110,000 in the treasury.

—The Japanese continue to press forward in North China. The coast forts near New Chwang have been reduced, and 10,000 Chinese were defeated at Thien Chwang Tai after a fierce fight. The Chinese are said to have lost 2,000 killed or wounded, while the Japanese loss was only 90.

—The friends of John H. Grimes, of Harrodsburg, are urging him to become a candidate for the democratic nomination for the Legislature. The Harrodsburg Democrat says that if Mr. Grimes concludes to make the race his platform will be: "McCreary for Senator and free turnpikes for Mercer county."

Two Witty Replies.

Wendell Phillips was a friend of General Butler and was fond of attacking everybody in responsible positions, in that most trying period for those in authority at Washington, the war. Judge Hoar resented these attacks on men whom he knew and respected, and the breach was not narrowed by a bitter rhetorical attack of Phillips on the judge himself. Ralph Waldo Emerson sided with the judge, and when Phillips presently lectured in Concord and wished to call on Emerson the poet refused to receive him. Phillips died first. Some one, probably not a resident of Concord, meeting Judge Hoar, asked if he meant to attend the funeral. "No," answered the judge, "I don't, but I approve of it." This need not be taken to imply that the judge nursed malice after the death of his enemy. It was simply his humorous way of putting everything. The constant use of his wit was a habit he could not lay aside at a moment's notice. It recalls Horne Tooke's irreverent bonnet. "Do you never go to church, Mr. Tooke?" asked the archbishop. "Never," was the grave reply, and Tooke added, "Not that I mean to say that there is any harm in it."—Worcester Gazette.

FOR SALE!

Having decided to go to farming I desire to sell privately all of my property at Rowland, consisting of a good, new dwelling of 5 rooms, supplied with water from the Stanford Water Works. The lot on which the house stands contains five-eighths of an acre and lies just outside of the town limits of Rowland. The outhouses are numerous and in good condition. Also a new store room 20x30, located in the forks of the Crab Orchard and "Cut Off" pikes. A splendid stand for one desiring to engage in the mercantile business. Also a vacant lot on Shanks Ave. in Rowland. The above described property cost me $2,155, cash. I will sell it for $1,500—$500 cash, balance in 6 and 12 months. For further information call on or address, J. H. HILTON, Rowland, Ky.

Dehorn Your Cattle.

I will go to any place where there are six or more cattle to dehorn. I do the work with the Lightning Dehorner. Can dehorn any cow in three seconds. The knife makes a clean, smooth cut, does not crush nor break the horn, as the clipper does. It is the only humane way to dehorn. Does not punish the animal like the saw, and the wound gets well as quick again as that made by the saw. For further information, call on G. A. PRYTON, Stanford, Ky.

THE clouds prevented a full observation of the moon's eclipse Sunday night, but the blackness of the darkness that overspread the earth from the 8th to the 11th hour showed that the astronomers had not reckoned in vain.

THE city council at its meeting Thursday night appointed Hon. R. C. Warren a committee of one to investigate the condition of the St. Asaph and the buildings that line it and report. Mr. Sam W. Menefee was appointed city tax collector.

THERE will be a musical entertainment at the Baptist church at Crab Orchard next Thursday night. Admission 25 cts. for adults, 15c for children. After the entertainment refreshments will be served. A number of couples from here expect to attend.

As the grand jury took no cognizance of the barber shops keeping open on Sunday, it is presumed that they are regarded as works of necessity. At any rate they will run wide open in the future and every man who cannot shave himself will say, amen.

OVER 200 reserved seats were sold within an hour to the first performance of the Andrews Opera Company at Danville next Friday evening, says the Advocate. It is the largest and best troupe that ever visited Little Britain. Seats can be reserved by writing to J. M. Cullins, manager of the Opera House, or A. Logan Denny, druggist.

JUDGE SAUFLEY is scrupulously jealous of the dignity of his court and will permit no "projecting." The other day the hour for dinner arrived while Tom Morgan was on the witness stand. "Come back as soon as the bell rings," said the judge to him. "All right, brother, I'll be here," said Morgan and for his flippancy familiarity he was promptly fined $1.

TO TEACHERS.—I have just been informed that the State treasurer will pay half of balance yet due you by April 1st. The other half (5 per cent) not certainly sooner than July 1st. Please do not give any more orders on the county superintendent with the expectation of having them paid before those dates mentioned, and not then if you can possibly wait for the money. W. F. McClary, superintendent.

GOT UP AND GOT.—Friday afternoon the skies were suddenly overcast with storm clouds, darkness hovered around and the ominous thunder and lightning vied with the winds in making people believe that the end was near. Mr. P. M. McRoberts was addressing a jury in his most silvery tones and Judge Saufley was listening in a tired sort of a way, when a blinding flash of lightning came. Forgetting for once his dignity and almost forgetting to adjourn court, the judge stood not on the order of his going but went out at once, with everybody else from the building, unmindful of the fact that the grand jury had just said it was as safe as any in town. The storm was quite severe for a time, the rain fell in torrents and a prize snow storm followed, but it was soon over and the scared jurist, barristers and jury returned to the court-house.

CAPT. JENKS DISMISSED.—After 20 years of service, interrupted only by about 18 months during Cleveland's first administration, Capt. H. B. Jenks, chief railway mail clerk on this division, has had to walk the plank. The charge is offensive partisanship and we suppose it can be easily sustained for the captain is about as out-spoken republican as you will meet with in a day's travel. He was a capital officer though and we regret to see him go. Mack Lee, of Russellville, will succeed him. It is said that the captain will go to farming, when he'll have plenty of time to sing:

Oh, I was Capt. Jenks, of the horse marines,
But I'll make more money raising turnip greens.
My strong partisanship gave Grover offense,
But I'll speak my sentiments now and hence,
For I am captain of the grangers.

YESTERDAY was the largest court day crowd, with the least money ever in Stanford.

BARGAINS in watches, clocks, jewelry and silverware at Danks', the jeweler. "mark down" sale this week. Old gold and silver taken in trade.

SPARKS from the chimney set fire to the roof of Henry Hester's house on the Lancaster pike Sunday and but for the timely assistance of neighbors the house would likely have burned. As it was a good sized hole in the roof was the only damage.

COL. W. C. P. BRECKENRIDGE's lecture at Danville Saturday night was attended by about a dozen people from here and the house was pretty well filled with Danville people. There were only seven ladies in the house though, five from Danville, and they were relatives or connections of the lecturer. Those from here speak in the highest terms of the eloquent production.

THE Hon. David H. Shields will close the lecture course here Wednesday night, March 20th. The club is now over $125 behind and if the good people do not come to its rescue on that night, it will be put still deeper in the hole. We do not mind losing our part, but we dislike to see Elder W. E. Ellis and Clarence E. Tate have to walk up to the captain's desk and settle.

THE court day dinner, set by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church, was patronized beyond their most sanguine expectations. Several hundred people were fed and given a splendid dinner for the small price. The ladies had to work like Trojans during the rush but they were equal to the occasion and everybody was well waited upon. It was worth the money to be served by such pretty girls, to say nothing of the extensive bill of fare.

THE coffee social given by the Young Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church at Mrs. T. J. Foster's Friday night was a success financially, as well as from a social standpoint. Those who went expecting to be served a lunch and depart, were surprised to find a reception committee ready to do the honors of the occasion and to make every one enjoy himself. It was really a most enjoyable social event and all who attended will be glad to know that another will be given next month.

MARTIN DILLON, who has handled baggage on this division of the L. & N. since the time whereof the memory of man hardly runs, is now enjoying the delights of being a hero. Sixteen years ago he saved the life of a little girl at Lexington. He had hardly thought of the incident since till last week when he was introduced to her, grown to be a beautiful girl, on the street in Louisville. The report doesn't say that she fell on his neck and wept, but if old Mart hasn't lost his cunning, he got at least a kiss or two for his life saving act.

THERE was an unusually sudden change in the weather Friday afternoon. The sky was bright and the atmosphere redolent of spring time, when almost in a twinkling black clouds gathered in the West and in a few minutes a regular blizzard, with thunder and lightning, rain, hail and snow accompaniments, was prevailing. The mercury went down rapidly and by night the ground was frozen and the air very penetrating. Some trees were blown down here, but if the lightning struck we haven't heard where, except the cupola of the court-house at Lancaster.

CUT IN TWO.—Friday as No. 23, the Southbound passenger train, was tearing down the grade at Gethsemine to make up lost time, Engineer Dan Saxton saw an object lying on the track around a curve about 100 yards ahead. He blew the whistle, applied the air and reversed, but the momentum of 40 or 50 miles an hour was too great and he could only succeed in slowing up a little before the ponderous machine had dashed into, what he now saw was, the body of a man. It was cut completely in twain and the man doubtless will never know what killed him. It is supposed that he was drunk as he was lying on the track with a jug of whisky by him. Capt. Peter O. Renaker tells us that he took the body to the station, but it had not been identified at last accounts.

MARSHAL NEWLAND worked a pretty slick trick on James Coffey's wife the other day. Coffey is a colored man who works for E. T. Pence and who has a peculiar fondness for chicken. Mr. Pence had missed some chickens before, but had kept "mum" about it and the other morning he found several more missing. He also found a walking cane in his hen house, which he brought to town and gave to Mr. Newland, who with this clue set out to work. After some inquiry he was informed that it was Coffey's cane and going to his house asked his wife if it was not her husband's property. She quickly replied that it was and then the marshal told her to bring him the chickens Coffey had brought home the night before. She denied having any chickens, but when "Brother" threatened to search the house she admitted that they had eaten two for breakfast and that the others were cut up and almost ready for dinner. This makes a pretty clear case against Coffey and his love for fowl will likely cause him to serve a term in the pen.

WE are the great emporium for everything new. See our capes and wraps, muslin underwear, Percaloe and lawn waists and our line of silk for waists. Hughes & Tate.

IT will be observed that but one of our correspondents sent us any items this time and that one less than a stickfull. They always do it when we are shortest copy and the busiest, but we get there all the same.

APPEARANCES are deceptive and March weather is peculiarly deceiving, but yesterday and the day before make it begin to look like the time spoken of in the Songs of Solomon 2:11 and 12: "For lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear in the earth; the time of the singing of the birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land."

FREE turnpikes, like free lunch and free whisky, sounds mighty nice to the man who wants everything free, but those who have to bear the brunt in making them free do not take so well to the idea. There are some pikes in this county, however, that should be made free and one is the Waynesburg. The county owns nearly all the stock in it and the road is not much better than a fair dirt road.

IN the county court yesterday the will of Mrs. Mattie Dudderar, which leaves her estate to Mrs. Rebecca Haley, was probated. Some 40 citizens of Crab Orchard sent a protest against the issue of distiller's license to J. W. James, but as they were not sufficient in number, Judge Davison granted license. The protestors wanted more time, but the judge held that they should have been ready then and there.

CIRCUIT COURT adjourned at a late hour Saturday afternoon, after clearing the docket as it has not been for a long time. A rather singular state of affairs will exist at the Lancaster court, which began yesterday. Judge Saufley's health is so bad that he has been advised to try the waters at Crab Orchard Springs for a few weeks and Judge J. W. Alcorn is acting in his stead, while Hon. W. H. Miller will represent Commonwealth's Attorney John Sam Owsley, Jr., who was called by telegram Sunday night to Franklin, where one of Mrs. Owsley's relatives is very sick.

THE jury in the case of Isaac Hamilton vs. the engineers, found a verdict at noon Saturday of $566.56 in favor of Mr. Hamilton, or about $80 less than he sued for. An appeal will be taken. The verdict is a big victory for Attorney P. M. McRoberts, who almost single-handed, fought the large array of brilliant lawyers on the other side. He put his whole soul in the case and made his client's cause his own.

Judge Saufley decided in the cases for city taxes against a number of citizens of Stanford, that lands within the town's limits used solely for farming purposes could not be held for taxes. He said, however, that had the residences and curtilages been assessed separately from such lands, he would have given judgment in favor of the city.

Mr. G. L. Penny, trustee of the jury fund, says the jurists cost $732 during the term just closed, which is about the average for the short term.
